What should I bring to The Debate Intensive?
Packing & Supplies

Important Items to Pack

- Clothes: Casual dress is recommended for the entirety of camp. We recommend that you bring a light jacket, sweater, or sweatshirt. Our buildings are air conditioned in the summer.

- Linen: We do not provide linens or pillows at The Debate Intensive, so you must bring your own. The Campus Village residence hall has extra-long twin mattresses.
  Linen tip: You can use two flat sheets of a twin, double, or queen bed instead of purchasing a new set of sheets if you don't have a set of extra-long twin sheets.

- Towel, Toiletries, and Shower Shoes: Towels and toiletries are not provided at The Debate Intensive. We also recommend bringing shower shoes/ sandals since showers are shared by everyone on the hall.

- Laundry System: A laundry room is available on-site. One load costs about$2. Laundry machines can be operated with a debit card, credit card, or prepaid visa card.

- Comfort Items: You may bring TVs, dorm fridges, video game systems, etc. These items are allowed, but are brought at your own risk and are not required.

Supplies for Intensives and Lab Groups

- Note-taking Supplies: You will attend lectures and lab groups where you will want to take notes. Bring whatever supplies you use to take notes for class (pens, notebooks, etc).

- Debate Supplies: You will be participating in debate rounds, so bring whatever supplies you use during a debate (flow paper, pens, timer, table tote, etc.). If you are new to debate, we recommend bringing blank, white paper and different colored pens for note-taking during a debate.

- Laptop Computer: It is strongly recommended that students bring a laptop to The Debate Intensive. Students will need laptops to complete research assignments, sign up for lectures, and receive important updates. Computers, and all expensive items, are brought at your own risk. Wireless internet connection will be accessible.
